BRAINHUNTER CLOSES CAREERSITE TRANSACTION WITH WORKOPOLIS

Toronto, Ontario, February 7, 2008 – On January 22, 2008 Brainhunter Inc. (“Brainhunter” or the “Company”) (TSX:BH) signed an Agreement (the “Agreement”) with Workopolis, Canada’s largest Job Board, whereby Workopolis would acquire Brainhunter’s Canadian and U.S. Job Board business. Brainhunter is pleased to announce this transaction closed February 6, 2008 and the first payment of $7,500,000 has been paid into trust. Pursuant to the Agreement, Workopolis agreed to purchase the following:

- Perpetual License – Workopolis receives a perpetual license to use Brainhunter’s CareerSite Technology Platform in Canada and the United States. Brainhunter will continue to operate and develop its Job Board activities outside these jurisdictions.
- Client Relationships – Workopolis will take over approximately 100 Client relationships where Brainhunter’s CareerSite Technology Platform and operations and marketing infrastructure is the backbone of the Client’s Job Board activities.
- On-going Technology Support - Brainhunter will continue to support the CareerSite Technology Platform after closing pursuant to a 12 month Transition Services Agreement and a 24-month Development Services Agreement, both of which are renewable.

Brainhunter's North American CareerSite business powers the job boards of many leading industry associations providing employers with an opportunity to reach their unique membership.

Workopolis is Canada's leading Internet recruiting and job search solutions provider. Patrick Sullivan, President of Workopolis, stated “we are thrilled with this acquisition and look forward to working closely with these prominent associations to provide their members and prospective employers with enhanced opportunities to connect with each other in a very targeted way.”

Pursuant to the Agreement, Brainhunter will receive approximately $10.0 million cash over a 12-month period as transition milestones are reached. It is anticipated that over 90% of the purchase price will be received by Brainhunter by March, 2008.
